MEDIA RELEASE

ACFP releases its Election 2025 scorecard.

Australian Better Futures Commitment Index 2025

In the lead up to the federal election Australians need quick and easy access to factual information about the policies of the major parties and the likelihood that they will lead to a future of safety and wellbeing for all.

ACFP's Election 2025 Scorecard – the Australian Better Futures Commitment Index – will help Australians decide for themselves which of the three major parties is most committed to the longer term interests of Australians.

The results show a stark difference in commitment between the parties to the things that matter most to Australians about their future.
